

NoodleTools - How to Revalidate Your Personal Folder

Every school year, Noodletools will ask you to revalidate your personal folder. This may happen over the summer when you enter your Summer Reading List. If you are asked to Revalidate Personal Folder when you log into Noodletools, you will see this screen:

Revalidate Personal Folder

The login you entered is correct, but it is time to revalidate your personal folder. Please log in to your school or library subscription below to revalidate your personal folder. What is this?

If you aren't sure what the current login is, click the "Skip Revalidation For Now" button and then check with a teacher or school librarian (you can skip revalidation until Friday, June 22nd, 2012).

Note: If your school/library does not use a username/password for access, you may be required to log in once from on-campus in order to revalidate your account.
